GERALDTON REPORTERS

We are on the lookout for two hungry reporters with a strong appetite for chasing news to join Seven West Media's Geraldton newsroom, which publishes the Geraldton Guardian twice a week and the Midwest Times weekly. Are you or do you know of anyone interested in working as a reporter? The first role would be ideal for a candidate with 1-3 years of previous journalism experience as the role entails helping to guide a newsroom of young and dynamic journalists. The second role would be perfect for a graduate journalist looking to kick start their journalism career. Based in Geraldton and covering a vast Mid West Gascoyne region that is diverse and rich in stories, issues and characters, the positions offer the best of both country and city living and an incredible opportunity to become a voice for a community, breaking stories that matter in print and on our expanding digital platforms.

The successful candidate needs a tertiary qualification in journalism or similar field, to be good at working under pressure in order to meet strict deadlines, excel in a team environment and have strong people, communication and written skills.

You will be living in a thriving regional city with a diverse economy featuring agriculture, fishing, mining and tourism, within walking distance to amazing beaches and an emerging café and hospitality scene. No two days will be the same with these roles. You could go from reporting police and crime stories to writing feel-good community stories and compelling features, or from covering city politics one day to farm or outback-based issues the next.

The successful candidate must be savvy with social media, be confident in taking photographs and have a valid driver's licence.

A variety of perks and benefits are available, with some relocation expenses covered.
